

How We Are Protected from ISIS/ISIL - by Evelyn Hammer

During a parade held in September 1998 two New York City police officers and at least two city firefighters were allegedly part of a group of men wearing blackface on a float in a Labor Day parade in Queens. Mayor Giuliani denounced the float as a "disgusting display of racism."

The mayor vowed to take quick and punitive action against any city employee who might have been associated with the float. The float was believed to be the last of the parade. It featured men cavorting in blackface, and at one point mimicking the killing of a black man, James Byrd Jr., who was dragged to his death behind a pickup truck on June 7, 1998 in Jasper, Texas.

There were photos recently posted on Facebook by Pamela Geller. When I visited the link on Facebook I was shocked to see the headline stating

PHOTOS: NYC Muslim Day Parade 2014 Pro-Terror March

Although this is a scene that may be from the Middle East, it is not. This photo was taken on the streets of New York City.

"Last year (and previous years) the black flag of jihad would be raised at this 'parade.' But this year they knew better in light of the beheading yesterday of British aid worker David Haines and the earlier beheadings of James Foley and Steve Sotloff. Last year the black flag of jihad flew."

How can known and targeted Jihadists be apprehended if faces are hidden?

Now that you've seen what is happening on the streets of New York City, do you think we are being protected against terrorist attacks?

What Are the Effects of the HAVA Act?

Some if not many of the new voting machines that were put into place as a result of the HAVA Act allowed the 2004 Presidential Election to be stolen by the Republican led President G.W. Bush. This time the fraud and disenfranchisement came in the state of Ohio.

Again, Where was the Outrage of We the People?

The Office of the President of the United States was not stolen once, but twice and the result has been devastating to the American people and the economy of the United States. What did we get out of all of this?

The ENRON Scandal was revealed shortly after the September 11, 2001 attacks. Fortunately for someone, and coincidentally by the way, there was little notice and was swept under the carpet as a result of the terrorist attacks.

The attacks on America came on September 11, 2001 and 5 short months later, the Patriot Act was passed by an overwhelming majority of the Congress, which is a law that restricts the freedoms of all while providing security in the Homeland.

On 2002 the United States led by President G.W. Bush declared war on Iraq under the false pretense that Saddam Hussein had weapons of mass destruction, and to date, still none have been found. Billions upon billions of American taxpayer dollars were wasted and thousands of soldiers lost and wounded, all based upon lies while Vice President Cheney's former company Halliburton flourished.

Less than 2 months after the start of the war with Iraq on March 20, 2003, President G.W. Bush grandstanded with a Mission Accomplished landing on the U.S. aircraft carrier USS Abraham Lincoln during a televised address by President George W. Bush on May 1, 2003.

With the sneaky rider/bill introduced by Montana Senator, Conrad Burns in 2004, slipped in the appropriations bill, during the holidays and without public knowledge or review, single-handedly and with the motion of a pen, deteriorated wild horse and burro protection given in 1971 known as the Free Roaming Wild Horse and Burro Act. This amendment was signed by George W. Bush on December 6, 2004 removing most protection for our wild horses and burros, where a majority can be sold/ auctioned/ processed "without limitation". The Wild Horses and Burros Act amendment of 2004 has put America's treasured Wild Mustangs in danger while providing public land for hydro fracturing by Big Energy.

The Energy Act was passed in 2005 and signed into law by President G.W. Bush allowing Halliburton to permit other fuel based companies to use the protected-by-law patent it holds for hydro fracturing that would be used across 34 states causing untold damage to land, water reservoirs and the air. And to add insult to injury, the gas is being sold overseas. Instead of protecting America's Natural Resources, those in the highest levels of government are selling the ownership of the United States of America to the highest bidders.

During the course of the G.W. Bush Presidency, the United States Supreme Court has made an all-out attack on the freedoms that were so hard fought for in the recent past. The following are only a few of those decisions.

The decision in Citizens United opened the flooded gates for unlimited political contributions, transparent or not, as it decided corporations should be treated as individual citizens and each should have the same rights as citizens.

The gutting of the Voting Rights Act by the United States Supreme Court effectively opened the states to begin using a poll tax against its citizens once again in their efforts to disenfranchise citizen voters.

Women were the last segment of society to receive the right to vote in 1920. It certainly appears the fight for women's rights took a blow with the Hobby Lobby decision.

Today, in 2014 we are again involved in sending troops to and bombing ISIS and ISIL, which is yet again an enemy that cannot be easily identified just like Al Qaeda and other terrorist groups.

Democrat Nancy Pelosi who is 74 years old and has been a member of Congress for 27 years - she was first elected in a "Special Election" in 1987 - was the Speaker of the House from 2007 until 2011. Pelosi represents the 12th Congressional District in California.

A Republican, John Boehner who is 65 years old, has been a member of Congress for 23 years has been the Speaker of the House since the Republicans took back control of the House in 2012. Boehner represents the 8th Congressional District of Ohio

Harry Reid has been a United States Senator since 1986, which is a total of 28 years. Reid is currently the Senate Majority Leader and is 75 years of age. Reid represents Nevada.

Do you have any family or friends in Californis, Ohio or Nevada? If so, send them this article. Have them build a movement to Term Limit the 3 of them out of office by voting for someone else. Use the And So On Mathematical Formula that is demonstrated in a Faberge Shampoo commercial. Google search "the and so on shampoo commercial"
